FUTURE CAREERS SEMINAR

At the next Joule forum meeting we plan to explore the issues relating to Future Careers in the Low Carbon Economy. The meeting will take place on Wednesday 20th June at the University of Manchester between 2 and 4 p.m.

The Joule Centre has a responsibility within the NWDA's Climate Change Action Plan to "maintain and increase the capacity of regional universities and HEIs to deliver a future workforce skilled in the research, development and deployment of low carbon technologies". The aim of the meeting will be to review the current status of courses relating to this area based at universities in the NorthWest, to reflect on likely future demand for such courses and to look at how any 'gaps' could be addressed.
